THE STORY OF TONGSAI BAY

The story of The Tong sai Bay began in 1985, when the late Khun Akorn Hoontrakul, then chairman of The Imperial Family of Hotels, saw Tong sai Bay from the sea and declared that it was love at first sight. Seven days later Khun Akorn purchased the land. For three months he slept on the beach, dreaming of his ideal resort, and began to draw up plans for the location of the cottage suites, each of which was to be constructed without cutting down a single tree and with minimal damage to the beautiful natural surroundings.

The Tong sai Bay opened its doors in July 1987 and became the first five-star luxury hotel on Koh Samui, under the umbrella of The Imperial Family of Hotels. Following a period of illness in 1993, Khun Akorn decided to sell the hotel group to a Thai tycoon, retaining only The Tong sai Bay, where he vowed to live out the rest of his life with his beloved wife Khun Chompunute.

In 2000 Khun Akorn passed away and management of The Tong sai Bay passed to the capable hands of his son, Thanakorn Hoontrakul, and his daughter in law, Saisiri who shares Akorn's passion for the environment and for providing the highest standards of hospitality and service. Under their watchful eye, The Tong sai Bay has continued to grow from strength to strength, recently developing its own 'Green Project' and working with other local hoteliers to preserve the island's natural environment for future generations.

The Tong sai Bay is a little bay on the north-eastern most tip of Koh Samui in the Gulf of Thailand approximately 800 kilometres from Bangkok, set in 25 acres of beautiful gardens and designed to blend harmoniously with the surroundings. This is a peaceful resort with a secluded beach.

A mere 10 minutes drive from Samui Airport where Bangkok Airway flies directly from Bangkok, in around 1 hour, The Tong sai Bay can be reached conveniently.
